Dedication

We the students of Savannah State College of nineteen hundred and sixty-three dedicate this yearbook to you Mr. John Benjamin Clemmons in recognition of and tribute to your having made manifest an influence for good on the scholarly, cultural, religious, and social dimensions of Savannah State College and of Savannah.

Mr. John Benjamin Clemmons

THE PRESIDENT
Dr. William Kenneth Payne

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The college yearbook is an interesting publication. It means a different thing to everyone associated with the college or university. To the members of the editorial staff and advisers, the yearbook brings memories of problems, difficulties, successes, failures, and long hours used in the development of the book. Experiences have been rich and challenging. To the members of the student body and faculty, the yearbook brings together a selected collection from life and learning on the college campus. It affords an opportunity for each individual to relive many phases of college life in a reflective mood.

Attending college today is no longer considered a luxury enjoyed by only the privileged. Both progress and survival are related to the quality and quantity of the college product. It is stimulating and encouraging to be a part of a college that is alive and growing. Quality of leadership, cooperative achievement, and learning are indicative of the vigor and strength found in the college. It is my hope that all who may have opportunities to peruse this book will discover evidences of growth.

W. K. Payne
President

The President addresses the College Family.

Dean Timothy C. Meyers, the Reverend Amjogollo E. Peacock, and the President officiate on Awards Day.

Dr. Joseph A. Johnson of Atlanta's Interdenominational Theological Center, June 1962 Baccalaureate speaker, and Dr. Payne lead the academic procession.

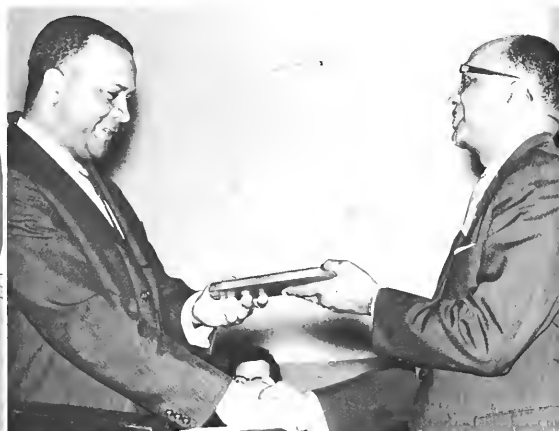

THE PRESIDENT IN ACTION

Dr. Payne awards a plaque to Mr. W. B. Nelson in recognition of his outstanding service to the College during seventeen years prior to his retirement in 1962.
